West Taiwan Digital Technology Center 西氏亞洲有限公司

Our Digital and Transformation (D&T) team partners across West's global business to harness the power of digital innovation and help drive the future of healthcare and manufacturing. With deep expertise in IoT systems, our Taipei and Taichung team play a key role in advancing West's capabilities in smart manufacturing, connected healthcare, and digital operations.

Taipei

Our team empowers West's digital manufacturing transformation by developing scalable engineering solutions, reliable global infrastructure, and reusable digital capabilities that serve as the foundation for innovation across worldwide operations. Through expertise in software engineering, site reliability engineering, automation, and enterprise platforms, we enable teams to deliver new digital solutions faster, more consistently, and at lower cost. By building capabilities that can be reused across sites, processes, and business functions, we help accelerate digitalization, improve operational efficiency and quality, and create sustainable value that grows with the organization's future needs.

Taichung

Our IoT and Software QA teams are driving innovative advancements in distributed systems, IoT connectivity, factory automation, and high-quality software development. The team is passionate about building secure, scalable, and reliable IoT solutions for healthcare and digital manufacturing, while ensuring quality, performance, and reliability.
